WOODLAND HILLS, Calif. – International Laser Group (ILG), an industry-leading manufacturer of premium compatible imaging supplies, officially announced that company founder Gary Michaels will assume the role of company chairman and CEO. Shedding his responsibilities as general manager of sales, Michaels will delegate management of ILG's inside and outside sales divisions to two newly created sales positions.

"As chairman and CEO, I will pursue strategic growth opportunities and help to ensure the aftermarket's place in the imaging supplies industry," Michaels said. "As ILG's customer base continues to grow, we will look to sales leaders with proven track records in the industry to manage our world-class sales organization."

Since the company's formation in 1988, ILG has become one of the leading worldwide manufacturers of premium compatible laser, inkjet and fax cartridges. With consistent year-after-year growth, ILG has grown organically, earning its reputation throughout the industry as one of the highest-quality compatible products manufacturers and providers of exceptional customer service.
